Encourage the child to journal with enough detail that anyone could understand their notes. Decorate the covers of a small notebook. Ask the child to draw pictures of their favorite aspects of science -- dinosaurs, astronauts and volcanoes are some ideas. Be sure they put their name and grade on the front cover for easy identification.

Starting a Science Journal. Science journals encourage writing, drawing, reading and a way for kids to record all their discoveries and adventures. There are so many ways to approach journaling -- you can journal by topic or keep your journal in date order (more like a diary). Journals can include written observations, drawings, photos, items that are taped in or a combination of all of these. My advice is to go with a structure that fits your child's age & personality.
